“Rochester Junior Woman’s Club is Looking for Donation Recipients”

Rochester, MI. March 2, 2009 - Rochester Junior Woman’s Club (RJWC) is seeking non-profit organizations that are in need of assistance and can benefit from their fundraising efforts during the club’s 2009-2010 season.

RJWC has been serving the community since 1956. It is a service organization involved in promoting education, preserving natural resources, working on behalf of the elderly, children and families in need and supporting and participating in the arts.

The club holds two or three major fundraisers a year. The “Lobster Boil” is held the last Saturday in September and other events such as a wine tasting, silent auction or shopping boutique, take place in the spring.

Proceeds from previous events have helped to support South Oakland Shelter, Rochester Hills Museum at Van Hoosen Farm, Meadow Brook Hall Garden Club, OPC, Paint Creek Center for the Arts, Habitat for Humanity, The Rochester Community House, Avon Players Theatre, Dinosaur Hill Nature Preserve, Band of Angels, Meadow Brook Center for Learning Differences, Meadow Brook Hall, The Heritage Festival and Paint a Miracle, as well as many other worthy organizations.

Fundraisers held during 2008-2009 are helping to support Rochester Area Neighborhood House and the Rainbow Connection.

If your organization is in need of assistance, please send a letter of request along with detailed information on your organization to RJWC Attn: Kimberly Dolenga 4065 Holly Lane, Rochester MI, 48306 or email at dkgam2@sbcglobal.net. Please have all requests submitted by March 31st. If you have any further questions, you may contact Kim at 248 370 9040.

If you are interested in joining the Rochester Junior Woman’s Club or for more information, please call Michelle Vitale at (586) 206-2571, email michvitale@yahoo.com or visit the website at www.rhpl.org/rjwc/.
