

Fines and Fees Policy

Policy Statement

A public library exists to serve the community and is based on the concept of sharing resources. When one person violates that principle by retaining materials beyond the established limits, that person takes unfair advantage of the community as a whole.

Regulations

1. To encourage the prompt return of materials, the library charges a per day overdue fine based on the type of item:

2. On the day after the due date, all materials will be considered overdue if they have not been renewed or returned.
3. No fines will accrue on days that the library is closed.
4. The library's computer system will notify customers of the overdue materials via email, automated telephone calls or United States Postal Service in compliance with state law.²
5. When the maximum fine level shown above has been reached, the item status will change and the Default Replacement Fee for Material will automatically be added to the customer account balance.
6. Any customer with an account balance of $5 or more shall forfeit borrowing, renewing, Internet, wireless, proctoring and meeting room privileges until materials are returned and fines are paid. Customers experiencing unusual difficulty in returning their materials or paying their fines should contact the library circulation staff.
7. Accounts with a balance of $15 for more than 30 days shall be turned over to a collection agency. Notification will be sent to customers before the account is turned over to the library's collection agency. A service fee will be automatically added.
8. Customers should resolve disputed fees before paying for them. Once payment for library fees has been accepted, monetary refunds will not be issued.
